THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.

A still small voice spake unto me:
"Life is so full of misery
Were it better not to be?"
—TENNYSON

Anderson is My Town—Everybody is talking well of Anderson.

Send out postal cards boosting Anderson, the best city.

Capt. W. A. Hudgens landed all right on the petit jury. Regrets.

The Federal league matter is going into the Federal courts. Res judicata.

The girl who has nothing to wear and wears it well is on regle those days.

It must be an awful temptation to go to work in Mr. Ford's story.

The level headed man is the effective man, as long as he sticks to the job.

If this man W. F. Stevenson is put on the asylum investigating commission he will shove the probe to the bottom.

It is not true that John Lind, remarked that the weather was pleasant the other day, as he never talks recklessly to interviewers.

It is admitted that every one should have a winter vacation, even if people have to overwork themselves sick to get it.

It seems likely that employers will have to share their profits, and they must also learn to live on their losses.

This climate can show all gifts in weather, but the big snow predicted by Prof. W. H. Hicks, has not come yet.

The people who feel in danger from Harry Thaw will probably be perfectly safe if they remain within the confines of New York State.

T. R. keeps on hunting in South Africa, although there is so much better shooting on the Mexican game trails now.

President Wilson writes such short messages that the congressmen can no longer get a hair cut and shave while they are being read.

If President Wilson doesn't do something about this mail lack of connection at Belton we will have to refer it to the legislature.

J. F. Morgan, the elder, once declared that "You can't unscramble eggs." But ask J. F. the younger if Woodrow Wilson hasn't done it.

As the congressmen realize what a calamity to the country it would be if they were not re-elected, it is believed they will adjourn early and begin campaigning in good season.

The trusts don't object much to the cut of their new style government suits, but they want the pockets just as numerous and deep as ever.

Some merchants, thinking that their cut of date and shop-worn winter goods will sell just as well in July as now and fresh spring stock, feel that it is not prudent for them to spend money advertising.

MR. GLENN RE-ELECTED.

The legislature of South Carolina Wednesday elected W. H. Glenn to succeed himself on the board of directors of the State penitentiary. In view of the fact that there were several candidates, his election on the first ballot was quite a compliment. Mr. Glenn deserved to be re-elected, if for no other reason because he was under fire, along with all others connected with the State penitentiary, and if he asked for the place he should have been given the endorsement he requested. He is a capable, worthy official.

We feel this way about it—that the place is really not big enough for Mr. Glenn who is one of Anderson's most progressive and most successful farmers, and what he should have is to be made the superintendent of the institution on the retirement of Capt. Griffith. The vote given the other candidate, Mr. Canfield, was just a few short of insuring his election, and his friends wish for him that distinction. As he says, he has been working all his life to put his friends in political offices and this is the only time he has asked for anything for himself.

THE THREAT TO KILL.

Two current newspaper items state that Ignace Padewski, the pianist, has had to cancel his Pacific coast engagements, having collapsed as the result of persecution by black hand threats. Also that William T. Jeune has received a great many letters threatening him with death if he does not stop pursuing Harry Thaw. The threats to kill is getting altogether too commonplace. In every large city insidious and cowardly attacks of this kind are frequently reported to the police.

Of course nearly all these warnings are mere fakes. No doubt many of them are written by boys as a joke. The writers would not dare become highwaymen, or express their opinions of public men by writing in a newspaper. Nevertheless, the anonymous threatening letter, the most dangerous kind of a weapon. It deserves a penalty not unlike what would be given for an assault with intent to murder. Meanwhile victims should never yield to these silly attacks, remembering that a man who resorts to such means is afraid of his own shadow.

WOMEN'S NEWSPAPER.

If the financial daily newspaper for women, about to be established in Berlin, Germany, shall prove a success, the feminine subjects of Kaiser Wilhelm must be quite different from our sisters, cousins and aunts at home.

A number of projects for daily journals for women have been formed in this country, but few of them ever attained success. A financial woman's journal would have about as much chance in this country as a periodical devoted to beauty hints for men. The many women of America who take an interest in financial problems are perfectly able to comprehend the investment news in any newspaper. They do not need to have it diluted and babyfied as for inferior minds.

It is customary to poke fun at women's periodicals and newspaper women's pages. These publications of late have an ephemeral atmosphere of froth and flutter. The latest Paris freak fashion, problems of love, and marriage, beauty hints, the etiquette of calling and cards and sweethearts, these don't greatly exercise the muscles of the brain.

Yet the question when one should make party calls, may be just as important as a half column of gossip about Connie Mack's prospective pitchers for 1914, which millions of men are reading with avidity.

The large place in the newspaper woman's page given to scientific cookery and household economy is a healthful sign. It indicates that a great many women wish expert information on their side of the industrial partnership.

Newspaper reading by women seems to be on the increase. In England women are about as much interested in politics as men. There is an increasing number of sweet and stylish women in the United States who can put a great many disconcerting questions about politics to the average American voter.

The United States is considered an agricultural country, yet it has to import food from abroad. But so far the farmers are able to raise enough to feed themselves.

There is a growing suspicion in Wall Street that some of the big and fierce bogeymen it has been seeing are only scarecrows stuffed with straw.

J. C. Kilby of Garvin, spent a few hours in Anderson yesterday on business.

At Townville on Sunday, Jan. 18, Miss Marie Martin and Julius Terry, both of Fork township, Rev. T. C. Ligon officiating.

On Sunday evening at Townville, Miss Lola Wicks and R. E. Coats, Rev. Ligon officiating.

At the residence of W. W. Fleming, last Sunday, Miss Mabel Norman of Piedmont, and Hanson Storm of Greenville, Magistrate Fleming officiating.

At the Greenville Methodist parsonage on Monday evening, Miss Alec Brown and M. I. Hollingsworth, Rev. W. T. Belvin performing the ceremony.

Deaths

J. D. Taylor of the Riverside mill village, about 60 years of age, died in a hospital in Augusta, Ga., last Saturday, following an operation. Mr. Taylor had been ill for some time and when he entered the institution at Augusta it was seen that an operation was the only hope and the shock was too much. The body was brought to Anderson and interment took place at Silver Brook cemetery.

MRS. J. H. MERRITT.

Mrs. J. H. Merritt, wife of the superintendent of the Riverside and Toraway mills, died at her home in Anderson county Sunday morning, following a brief illness. Mrs. Merritt was a consecrated Christian woman and she will be sorely missed.

The body was taken to Bethesda church, near Piedmont, where the interment took place. The sympathy of many friends is extended.

MRS. NANNIE E. PRUITT.

Mrs. Nannie E. Pruitt died at her home in the Ebenezer section of the county last Sunday night, following a long and painful illness.

Before her marriage to A. C. Pruitt the deceased was Miss Nannie Emerson.

She was loved by all who knew her and by her kindly ways and Christian manner she had made many friends who will mourn her going.

The deceased was only 21 years of age and is survived by her husband and a little son, 14 months of age.

FAIRVIEW.

Special to The Intelligencer.

Fairview, Jan. 21.—We are planning some fine work on the farms of this section as long as the present delightful weather continues. This is a splendid season for the farmers and most of them in this community are taking advantage of it.

Under the capable management of Miss Sule Kelly, the school at this place is progressing nicely and the pupils seem to be learning rapidly.

ROY HAWKINS IS DEAD
AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Succumb Wednesday to Typhoid Fever at His Home in Townville.

Roy Hawkins, the son of Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Hawkins, died at the home of his parents in Townville Wednesday morning about 5 o'clock, following a long illness. The young man was about 15 years of age and was a most lovable character in every respect. He commanded the affection of all his school mates and companions and by his manly ways compelled the admiration of his elders as well.

Roy was first seized with an attack of typhoid fever from which he suffered for some time and when this disease was almost mastered he fell prey to pneumonia, which was the direct cause of his death.

Rev. W. B. Hawkins, the boy's father, is well known in Anderson, being the pastor of the Baptist church at Townville.

The deceased is survived by three brothers and two sisters, two of whom, Miss Kathleen at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, and Frank, who is a student at Mercer College, Macon, Ga., were summoned home and reached Townville before their brother's death.

The funeral service was held at the home in Townville Wednesday morning, being conducted by Rev. T. C. Ligon, Rev. W. S. Myers and W. T. Hollingsworth, all of Townville. The body was brought to Anderson in the afternoon and was interred in Silver Brook cemetery at 4 o'clock, the services being conducted at the grave by Rev. O. L. Orr, pastor of the Bethel Baptist church.

A very touching scene was presented in Townville at the funeral when the school children, of the place marched around the bier, each depositing a small piece of evergreen on the casket wherein lay their schoolmate, who was a favorite.

Another pathetic feature of the case is that another of the Hawkins' children is also critically ill at this time and there is some fear of its recovery.

B. F. Martin will be at Anderson on Saturday. When writing, address care McCullough, Martin and Rhyne, Lawyers, Greenville, S. C.

MAKING PROGRESS ON NEW RAILROAD PLAN

Northwestern Electric Railway Is Likely Soon to be in Operation

While in the city yesterday, A. M. Erwin of Antreville, called at the office of Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce, to discuss the matter of the Northwestern Electric Railroad Company. Mr. Erwin said that everything was progressing splendidly and that the plans were being carried out in fine style.

He said that he was meeting with no difficulties in the matter of getting right of way and that he did not anticipate any trouble along this line. He said that he had recently had a conversation with William M. Graydon of Abbeville, president of the railroad, and he thinks that the incorporators will put through the plans for financing the road with very little difficulty.

It has been pointed out that by means of this railroad, Anderson can connect with Augusta which means that she can connect with water freight. It has been proposed that a deal can then be made with the Savannah Barge & Steamship Company of Augusta so that the through packet business can be handled directly to New York, thus giving vastly better rates.

The books of the corporation are to be opened in Anderson next month, the capital stock of the concern to be $100,000 with a maximum capital of $2,000,000, the object being to construct the railway between Easley and Augusta, by way of Anderson, Abbeville, McCormick and Edgefield.

The following compose the board of corporators: J. H. Anderson and A. S. Farmer, Anderson; W. C. Smith, and James B. Leach, Easley; S. J. Wakefield and A. M. Erwin, Antreville; W. P. Calhoun and O. P. Bright, Edgefield; J. J. Andrews and T. J. Price, McCormick; C. C. Gambrell and W. M. Graydon, Abbeville.
